

Contact:

Holly Odgers, Communications Director, Lake Hopatcong Foundation
973-960-6310, holly@lakehopatcongfoundation.org

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE – photos included

10th Annual Native Plant Sale Highlights Benefits for Local Ecosystems

LANDING, N.J., April 9, 2026 – The Lake Hopatcong Foundation is celebrating the 10th year of its annual native plant sale this spring, featuring a selection of more than 45 plant varieties native to New Jersey for a range of garden and landscape settings.

Online ordering will be available from April 24 through April 30 at lhplantsale.givesmart.com. Purchased plants can be picked up on Friday, May 2, from 9 a.m. to noon at the Lake Hopatcong Foundation, located at 125 Landing Road in Landing.

“Our native plant sale is designed to make it easier for people to choose plants that work with nature, not against it,” said Lake Hopatcong Foundation Board Chair Marty Kane. “Each year, we aim to offer an interesting mix of species that support pollinators and fit a variety of garden conditions. Plus, they really are a lot of fun to grow!”

Native plants are species that naturally occur in a region and are well adapted to local conditions. Because of this, they typically require less water, fertilizer, and maintenance once established. They also support local wildlife by providing food and habitat for birds, bees, butterflies, and other pollinators, which play an essential role in maintaining healthy ecosystems. In the right settings, native plants can also help stabilize soil and absorb stormwater, supporting the health of nearby waterways.

“Planting native species is a practical step people can take to support the health of Lake Hopatcong and the surrounding watershed,” said Communications Director Holly Odgers. “It’s a simple way to contribute to cleaner water, stronger habitats, and a more resilient local environment.”

Orders are limited, and availability may vary, so early participation is encouraged. For more information and to place an order, visit lhplantsale.givesmart.com.

The Lake Hopatcong Foundation is a registered 501(c)(3) nonprofit dedicated to protecting the lake environment and enhancing the lake experience by bringing together public and private resources to encourage a culture of sustainability and stewardship on and around New Jersey’s largest lake, for this and future generations. To learn more, visit lakehopatcongfoundation.org.

###

Native Plant Sale

April 24 - 30, online ordering lakehopatcongfoundation.org

May 2, order pickup
Lake Hopatcong Foundation
125 Landing Road, Landing

More than 45 varieties of plants available, all native to New Jersey!

The Lake Hopatcong Foundation will hold its 10th annual native plant sale online from April 24 to 30.